Thinking Out Loud

"The Value of the Newspaper to the High School Student"

(By FRED GARRISON)

Few folks realize what tremendous help the newspapers are to the average high school student. Items of Foreign News, Crime, Local News, Politics, and Editorials all help the student to be in contact more with the other people in the world.

The Foreign News probably helps the student understand other people in the world more than any other news article. In Foreign News, the student will see for himself how people in other nations are living and what their views are on different topics. For instance, the student will read in te paper about the situation in China. He will learn how, (because the people are not as fortunate as the people of his land) they are fighting disease, hunger, and war. He will read stories of the other countries which differ from his. Will he agree with the principles that they follow? The answer will be no. He will not try to follow the footsteps of his neighboring nation. He will, however, think and plan ways to better his nation when he and his classmates lead the country in governmental affairs.

The Crime Story, you might say, doesn't help the student in any way. In this particular incident you are half right and half wrong. The Crime Story helps the student to realize the good and bad factors in life, and teaches him what becomes of one who follow the wrong road.

The student will pick up the newspaper and will first of all see some crime story. There is one in every newspaper today A sorrowful story of one person taking the life of another for some unsensable reason or a story of a person taking his own life, will undoubtedly attract the student's attention first. He will read the article, analyze it, and ask himself if it was a reasonable way to end a quarrel. He will agree that it isn't, and will watch his life in the future to avoid following the path of this person. Again the newspaper scores a victory, but newspapers also ruin a crime story by sensationalizing it. They make it more exaggerated than it really is. Other than this fault, the crime story would be and is a great help to the student. If all newspapers would fogret about making headlines and gigantic stories out of murders and suicides, the newspapers would certainly have a much better standing.

Another helper from the newspaper is the Local Story. The Local Story is the story of the news of the community. In this the student can see what people are doing. He can see achievements and failure of his elders. He is able to see the achievements of his fellow students. He will read the article and then decide whether his associates are doing better or worse things than he is. In the latter case, he will naturally decide against a life of that type, while in the former case he will be inspired to model his life after that of his friend.

Although the student does not usually take part in politics, he receives much information and ideas from an article of that nature. He will see in such articles that the views of people are diverse. It will be plain to him that the views of the common people cannot be changed much. He will conclude also that if he ever wishes to hold an elective position he must be able to think fast and clearly and to truthfully stick to his better ideas.

The last, and probably most important, of the articles is the Editorial. In this, the student may see for himself what other people think of certain topics. He can also see how they feel toward issues that are before the nation. It will be clear to him then that in order to be a great man ,one must have broad views.

The newspapers may some day be surpassed by the radio or other inventions, but it will always remain in the high school student's mind that they were one of the most important factors in the life of the student.

Native Sons Dedicate Landmarks Sunday

(By BETSY BENNETT)

In anticipation of the meeting of the Grand Assembly of Past Presidents of the Native Sons of the Golden West in Nevada City, October 17, 1936, Hydraulic Parlor No. 56 has under way and now nearly completed four projects all of which are strictly in the line of work laid out for the organization to accomplish.

The dedication will take place Sunday. October 18th, the day after the convention.

One of the projects is to pay tribute to the profession of Sheriff and Peace Officers generally who not only have to perform prescribed duties for the public; but who, also, have far too often to give their lives with or without warning and without extra fee.

There is a picturesque instance where a sheriff was literally goaded to the test of courage and duty by a demanding public. He got his man and gave his life. It occurred about a mile from town, on a hilltop overlooking the Nevada City basin, where a highwayman held a retreat from which he could operate to advantage. He held sway for several weeks with much abandon and eluded all searchers and pursuers, stopping whom he pleased most anywhere, disdaining either disguise or haste. A young girl gathering wild flowers hit upon his hideout and notified the sheriff who set out alone in search. The two were found dead a dozen or so feet apart where they had "fought it out."

A marker will be placed where each lay, and a fitting inscription in bronze will be set on the one representing the fearless sheriff.

The second feature is a large boulder within the city limits at the edge of town and was known to the pioneers as the "Indian Medicine Stone." It stands a dozen feet in height and twenty feet long with two remarkable hollows on the top —natural or not as one may choose to think—which would just nicely accomodate a human body and in which the Indians used to lie and take sun baths to cure their ills. The old emigrant trail of '49 passed close by its base. That Emigrant trail led from Truckee Pass and Bear Valley to the gold mines of Nevada County. It followed the Washington Ridge down past "Lone Grave" and forked near it, one trail swinging around through Blue Tent, Selby Flat, the gap west of Sugar Loaf and down into the Nevada City basin, thence to the Sacramento Valley. The other branch continued along Harmony Ridge down into the gap east of Sugar Loaf and then into Nevada City, through Town Talk bound for the Sacramento Valley and Sutter's Fort.

The bronze tablets will be placed by the Landmarks Committee of the Grand Parlor N. S. G. W., one in the gap west of Nevada City and the other in the eastern gap of Sugar Loaf in order to mark these historic trails.

These four dedications, to take place October 18th, will be made imposing. They will be conducted by the officers of the Grand Parlor and its Landmarks Committee. Many notables have signified their intention of attending. Some will come from Southern California by plane.

The orders of the Native Sons of the Golden West and the Native Daughters of the Golden West have assumed the task of caring for the sentimental features of California's history.

The committee include:

Hydraulic Parlor, N. S. G. W.—C. W. Chapman, chairman; Miles D. Coughlin, Verne Gleason, Clarence Martz, Elza J. Kilroy, Joe G. O'Neil, Frank Davies, William H. James, Cary Arbogast, Robert Tucker.

Laurel Parlor, N. D. G. W.—Mrs. George H. Calanan, chairman; Mrs. Annie Godfrey, Mrs. Katherine

RUTH COMFORT MITCHELL TO BE AUBURN SPEAKER

Ruth Comfort Mitchel,, well known novelist and short story writer, will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Van Court Warren of 123 Aeolia Drive, Auburn. Mitchell is one of the most forceful speakers among the organizations of California women who are supporting Governor Landon's candidacy for President. The event of October 25 will be in the nature of a lawn party and afternoon tea. Members of Republican organizations of Nevada City and Grass Valley are invited to attend this gathering to hear Mrs. Mitchell speak.

DID FIREBUGS BURN THIS HOME?

At 12:15 Wednesday morning several fire alarms brought the fire engines to Walrath avenue and the lower Grass Valley road to try to extinguish the flames in the old two-story house on the corner. The house was damaged beyond repair, but the fire was under control before it had a chance to spread to neighboring homes and woods.

The building which burned was the old Organ home, but none of the family have lived there for several years. A family by the name of Holbrook lived there a few months ago, but the house has been uninhabited since they moved.

The fire is believed to have been set, as traces of gasoline were found on the floors and the neighbors report seeing two men in a car drive away from the house just before the fire burst into flames.

A fire in the jungles south of Nevada City last evening was quickly extinguished by the local fire department.

Dean of Editors is Rotary Guest Speaker

(By JOAN GRANT)

Rotarians at their luncheon meeting yesterday heard an interesting address by E. G. Kinyon, editor of the Morning Union and dean of Nevada county newspaper men in which he gave a brief story of the present day rapid dissemination of news, and reminiscenses of his recent trip east. He was introduced by Oscar Odegaard, chairman of the program committee. The topic of the day was "Newspaper Week." Following Kinyon's address, M. Henry Argall gave a brief description of the speed and methods used in transmitting photographs by telephoto process so that a flood in Pennsylvania is photographed, transmitted to San Francisco and appears on the printed page of newspapers there 25 minutes after the original photograph has been taken.

Mr. Kinyon in his address said in part:

"To meet and mingle with my Nevada City friends in this noted hostelry of countless memories of the brilliant men of press and bench and bar who were wont to assemble here in those alluring earlier days is, indeed, a pleasure and a privilege for which I can but lightly express my appreciation.

"But when it comes to speaking for the Press — the Newspaper— then looms what we of daily paper reporting know as the "touch assignment"—for is not the newspaper always supposed on every hand to speak for itself, unable wholly to hide its shortcomings, unprideful of what it knows to be its ultimate destiny—the ash can.

"Just where this "Newspaper Week" institution originated is uncertain; but certain it is that no one was more surprised than publishers themselves to learn that the newspaper rated a "week" or even a day. In truth, the publisher of late years has been so busy keeping an apprehensive eye upon encroaching institutions—such as the radio—that not much time could be given to self adulations.

"But as time passes and the old reliable Jourials and Gazettes and Heralds seem to be withstanding the onslaughts of their tall-towered competitors in news dissemination, the easier breath is again permitted the publisher, and happy I am to declare that it is now the universal conviction that the newspaper—at least as we know that institution in America can never be displaced in the interest and affections of the people and in its service to the people.

"And here it may be stated that the free American press is exclusive to America, except as to the Canadian fringe, and, in lesser degree, the press of England, South Africa, Australia, and other English speaking countries. To think of another country around the globe where the press is not subject to the insufferable censorship of some petty governmental tyrant, is to tax the memory beyond endurance.

"But in speaking of the Press I do not alone mean the flamingly strident big city dailies, but also include the larger field of middle-class city dailies and beyond them the still larger field of weeklies and semi-weeklies with which every state of the Union is blanketed—a condition which exists in no other country of the world. In all some 25,000 periodicals of regular publications exist in the United States, all but a relatively few being daily or weekly newspapers.

"But that a certain erosion or declamation has been at work with the newspapers as well as with nearly every other American institution is not to be denied. On my recent trip into the Middle-West—a region with which I was familiar more than a quarter of a century ago, and more, I found that many of the old time journalistic enemies had buried the hatchet and consolidated—and that the newspaper graveyards had grown notably.

"Speaking now of the larger cities, I found that the Omaha World-Herald had absorbed some afternoon rival and was issuing morning and afternoon editions from the same office; that the once man-eating Kansas City Times had become the very daily morning edition of the famous Kansas City Star; that the Dallas News had absorbed an afternoon competitor; and that the El Paso Times, from which I came in 1911 to my present associations with the Grass Valley-Nevada City Union, was being issued from the same office of its once hated rival, the Herald.

"Unfortunately, due to some whim of the train conductor, I could not stop over at Denver to learn how fared the fortunes of fire-eating papers once conducted there by our good friend Bill Griffith.

"And so by various expedients of travel, clinging the while to my trusty portable typewiter, I came to the little, blistered, withered town of Yates Center, Kansas—named for Illinois' famous Civil War Governor, Richard Yates—and even to the very office, that of the Yates Center News, a weekly which had I entered as a printer's devil along in the latter 80's—and there operating a modern linotype was the self-same printer who learnt me the printer's case in that long ago period. But Bill had not spent all of his days in the weekly office; traveled, he had, to such extent and purpose that he is more familiar with Southern California than I am myself.

"The California Press is, on the whole, more substantial, more dignified, less given to trivalities—more professional and ethical—that is the Press of any of the states which I visited. The great city of Los Angeles is replete with daily papers, but there, too, the policy of absorption of the larger papers issuing both morning and afternoon editions, under one guise or another prevailed. In that city it was that I had my first recent glimpse of a tabloid—an exceptionally vigorous and enormously circulated sheet, I observed and learned."

LOCAL HIGHWAY PLANS UP FOR CONSIDERATION

(By JOAN GRANT)

The Chamber of Commerce has drawn up and submitted to the State Highway Commission a list of three projects which will be included in the next budget of the Highway Commision. This budget will be submitted to the state legislature in December and the legislature will vote on the budget early in January. These projects are: Completing the Bear Valley highway; improving the Downieville highway; improving the Auburn-Grass Valley highway. Judge Tuttle, chairman of the Nevada City highway committee, stated that one of more of these propects will be accepted.

The county supervisors have requested the aid of the Federal Works Projects in putting through a new road to Washington. If the six miles long. The steepest grade project is completed the road will be will be 6 per cent as compared with a grade, as it is now in some instances, of 20 per cent. When the road is completed it will cost $100,000 and it will aid a great deal in the development of the rich gold mining of this district.

TWIN CITY HIGHWAY IS MUCH IMPROVED

(By FRED GARRISON)

The work on the Grass Valley-Nevada City highway, which has been in operation for the past few weeks, is soon to be completed.

Mr. S. Leonard, State Highway Resident Engineer, who is in charge of the work, states that the total project amounts to the sum of $38,-692.50.

The Independent Construction Company of Oakland, California, is doing all the work on the project. 5645 tons of resurfacing oil will be used, using road oil medium curing number 4. The resurfacing starts at the large tree, which is lighted at Christmas, on the city limits of Nevada City and will end at the California Inn at Grass Valley. The contract runs to a point which is 100 feet further than the Helbach Motor Company plant in Grass Valley. The rest of the work to the California Inn will be done by local highway maintenance crews. The shoulders of the total project will also be put in by F. R. Carlson, state highway superintendent, and his crews.

When the job is completed, the road will be twenty feet wide and about three inches high. Approximately twenty more working days will be needed to finish the construction. Twenty men are working on the construction, who are furnished by the Relief Rolls from Mr. Jerry Delaney, relief administrator, of Grass Valley.

After the contract is finished, everyone will greatly enjoy traveling over the new surface which will exceed the former road in comfort and durability.

YELLOWJACETS OUT TO WIN ON GRID SATURDAY

(By JOHN KRON)

Nevada City will play hosts to the Grant Union high school football team here Saturday (tomorrow) afternoon at 2 o'clock. This game, played at the high school field, is to be the deciding game for the "B" league championship, the two teams have both won two games by nearly the same scores. Nevada City won the Auburn game by a score of 18-7 and Grant Union won from the same team by a 13-0 score.

That does not concede an advantage to the North Sacramento team. Matt Burgan, right half of the local team, was forced to view the Auburn game from the bench, due to a leg injury. He will be back on the team and Carl Tobiassen, who was also taken out during the third quarter of the Auburn game will be back again at center.

Although the boys have not had a game for two weeks, they have shown up well in practice and there is an old saying among coaches, that as, they practice, so shall they play.

Coach Barron pulled a rabbit out of the hat by shifting Widauf to right end and Jones to left guard. Both of these boys were shifted from the backfield to strengthen the line.

NEVADA, SIERRA TEACHERS PLAN THREE DAY MEET

(By BETSY BENNETT)

Preparations are now being made for the annual teachers institute. The Nevada and Sierra county teachers meeting jointly at Grass Valley.

The institute will begin on Monday, November 23, lasting until the following Wednesday.

PRACTICAL CLASSES IN SEWING FOR HI GIRLS

(By DOROTHY THOMAS)

Although Sewing Classes have been held in Nevada City high school for only three years the classes are very crowded. There are three sewing classes. Two classes of sewing I, and one class of Sewing II.

The Sewing I pupils first made a simple apron. This is done to test their ability to sew. The instructor observes the faults and gives instructions about how to correct them. All instructions are put into a notebook for future reference.

The second garment made is either a cotton blouse or a very simple dress, depending on the pupils ability to sew. Later in the term, when the students are ready, they leave cotton to sew on linen, rayon and wool.

The sewing II class starts on silk dresses. Then they make wool suits and dresses, then evening gowns of satin, lace or another similar material.

All garments are marked by neatness, promptness and the ability to sew correctly. All work is done by the student, no garment is allowed to be taken from the class room.

The work done by the students is displayed at a fashion show at the high school or put on exhibit in the store windows in Nevada City.

SCHOOLS READY EARLY IN NOV.

Phil Scadden, inspector on the Nevada City grammar and high schools states that the floors are laid in the class rooms at Washington grammar school. The heating plant has been installed and a test several days ago gave wonderful results, the radiators in the northern part of the building giving as good heat as those near the furnace. The large windows all over the building have been put in. They are arranged so as to turn at different angles to give proper air currents in the class rooms. About 40 per cent of the tile has been put on and the rest is stacked in piles on the roof.

At the high school the sheeting and paper are on the roof of the new wing. Tile is being hoisted up on the building to be laid shortly.

Both buildings will be completed within their allotted extension of time. It is expected classes will be able to move into both buildings early in November.

Political control of WPA workers confirms Farley's prediction that this was to be a dirty political campaign.

WHEN FIRE DEMON RAVAGED NEVADA CITY IN 1856

(By CATHERINE STEPHENS)

Settlement in Nevada City began in 1850. Several small fires occurred b,ut it was not until July 19, 1856, that the people of the now busy and prosperous city learned what dreadful power lies in the combined force of wind and flame.

About four o'clock on the afternoon of that memorable day a fire was accidently started in a blacksmith shop on Pine street; it rapidly spread, igniting a brewery that adjoined the shop, and then leaped across the street to a hotel and a livery stable. From there impelled by a strong west wind, it made rapid headway, lapping up the frail buildings with its scorching tongue, and twining its long red arms of flame about the brick structures, until, clasped in their warm embrace, they fell crumbling to the earth. Great was the excitement and consternation of the citizens; men rushed to their stores or homes hoping to save a little from the rapacious clutch of the devourer; mothers wild with terror, hastened with their little ones to places of safety, nor gave one thought to the roaring flames, save to snatch their babes from their relentless grasp.

All attempts to stay the onward sweep of the flames, or to wrest from their consuming breath anything of value, were futile. The brave and desperate who attempted it were compelled to abandon their hopeless task and seek safety in flight. In one short half hour the town lay a heap of smouldering ruins; nearly all the dwelling houses, all the wooden business structures and all but six of the twenty eight supposed fireproof buildings were consumed. It was estimated that the total loss approximated $1,500,000.

The burned district extended from the top of the hill on Broad street to the creek and from Spring street, including the Baptist church (present location of E. T. R. Powell's home) to Caswell's lot on Main street, including the court house, embracing a smouldering area of 160 acres.

More than the destruction of their property, more than the sudden plunge from prosperity to ruin, the city mourned the loss of the brave spirits who became victims of their own heroic efforts to battle with the destroyer. Ten were known to have perished in the flames, and it was feared that still others met the same terrible fate.

A relief committee was immediately organized by the citizens to relieve the necessities and ease the sufferings of the hundreds so suddenly deprived of both house and clothing. Those who had been so fortunate as to live beyond the reach of the flames generously threw open their houses for the reception of houseless, while many in the city and sympathizing friends from without contributed to a relief fund which the committee wisely and judiciously expended.

Spured on to some protective measures by the great calamity so recently experienced by the city, the business men formed an organization in August, 1856, for the protection of the city from fire. A delegation of six persons was made each night to patrol the city and guard against fire. A captain was then appointed. Those who joined the association were required to take their turn on watch once a month or to pay one dollar a month for the salary of the captain and other expenses. A freedom from fires instilled into the minds of the citizens a false sense of security, this excellent organization was allowed to die out from apathy.

JACK O'HARA IS SOPH HEAD MAN

(By JOHN MUSCARDINI).

Although the class has not put any time on deciding what it will do for an assembly program and other social affairs, it has had two very interesting meetings. At the first meeting Evelyn Lotz, the last year's president presided, and people were nominated for different class officers. Mr. Sweeney gave us a short talk on a "Sophomore."

At the last meeting Bill Carter presided until the elections were over. Officers were elected as follows:

President—Jack O'Hara.
Vice President—Virginia Carney.
Secretary—Elton Tobiassen.
Treasurer—Patty Bansmer.

The class also held an election for class dues which was finally put at 25c so that we can have a party and help the school in every way possible.

Mr. Sweeney is class advisor and the class feels that he will do anything possible for the betterment of the class.

At the close of the meeting Jack O'Hara gave a short speech assuring us that he will do his best to help the class.

FRESHMEN ELECT YEAR'S OFFICERS

(By DOROTHY HOFF)

The Freshman Class held its second meeting last week. The following students were selected to carry on the affairs of the class:

George McCartney, President.
Claire Randall, Vice-President.
Rose Pontecelli, Secretary.
Robert Carr, Treasurer.

The class discussed prospects of a program to give for the student body.

The next social event that the freshman class will give will be a dance repaying the senior class for the reception which was given at the community hall the first Friday after school opened.

SIX THOUSAND IN DRIVE FOR LOCAL OPTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—With more than 6000 volunteer workers in the field throughout the state, officials of the Local Option Campaign Committee, headed by Dr. J. C. McPheeters in Northern California, and by Dr. Roy L. Smith in Southern California, are predicting defeat for Propositions No. 3, (liquor control), and a victory for Proposition No. 9 at the polls November 3.

Attorney Nathan Newby, prominent Southern California Democrat who wrote the arguments which have been submitted to voters against Proposition No. 3 and in favor of Proposition No. 9, predicts a victory for the local option forces on November 3. He bases his conclusions on the recent local option victories in Maine, Ohio, Texas, New York, Pensylvania and other states.

"The people of California want relief from present conditions" declared Mr. Newby. "Because of the present lack of 'local control,' residence districts have been invaded by liquor stores, communities with overwhelming dry sentiment have been compelled to tolerate the sale of alcoholic beverages and little protection has been given schools. churchs, veterans' homes and other institutions.

"Proposition No. 9 is not a prohibition measure. Communities which do not choose to use the power afforded them by local option, will simply be governed by the Alcohol Beverage Control Act.

"On the other hand, however, Proposition No. 3 seeks to set up a political spoils system that would place the entire administration of alcoholic beverages in the hands of a 3-man dictatorship not responsible to the people," Mr. Newby declared. "Those who believe in home rule and who wish to protect their communities from liquor selling establishments should vote 'no' on this amendment."

To participate in the administration of the present government, the higher officials logically should be Democrats. To get and hold a WPA job the candidate for relief must be a Democrat, even if he is a Republican.

NOCONSERVATION GRAVY FOR THIS REPUBLICAN

The following account of the experience of a Placer County Farmer shows how the Soil Conservation act is administered.

The farmer was visited by an assistant county agent, his boss being district administrator of Soil Conservation. Surveying the property the assistant noticed a field of clover. He addressed the farmer and the succeeding conversation went something like this:

"Are you collecting on that field of clover?"

"No, why should I?"

"Under the Conservation Act you are entitled to."

"But I didn't plant it to conserve anything; I planted it for feed for my cattle."

"Nevertheless, you can collect on it. The same kind of money is going to others; why not to you?"

"All right, if you insist."

"You'll have to fill out some papers which I will send to you later. By the way, how are you registered?"

"Republican."

"And how are you going to vote?"

"For Landon and Knox."

And the farmer never got the papers.

Elmo Williams, of Nevada City suffered a cracked vertebrae Monday when it is stated a door in the shaft at the Lava Cap mine fell on him. He was taken to Jones Memorial hospital and is making a good recovery.

Cleanup CALIFORNIA'S LIQUOR SITUATION

VOTE

YES ON 3
FOR LIQUOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

Proposition 3 removes liquor control entirely from State Board of Equalization. Sets up impartial Alcoholic Beverage Commission. Provides adequate local enforcement. Provides mandatory public hearings on demand of local authorities and authorizes commission to deny or revoke licenses if character of applicant or place of business unsatisfactory. Authorizes commission to limit number of licenses in any community.

VOTE

NO ON 9
PREVENT RETURN OF PROHIBITION

Under misleading title of Local Option, Proposition 9 gives City Councils and Boards of Supervisors power to bring back bone dry prohibition overnight WITHOUT A VOTE OF THE PEOPLE. Would inject wet and dry issue into every local election. Would bring back bootleggers and speakeasies. Would cause widespread unemployment and irreparable loss to our $400,000,000 wine and grape industries and $250,000,000 tourist trade.

PINEAPPLES FROM HAWAII-
HATS FROM MME. FRANCOT-
A PUPPY FROM PENSYLVANIA-

Run the gamut of human wants—needs, comforts, luxuries — and you'll invariably find them offered you—in delightful selection—by your home town merchants. Whether it be luscious, golden pineapple from the romantic isles of Hawaii, a striking fall hat from New York's Fifth Avenue stylists, or a sleek-coated, thoroughbred bird dog—you can generally find what you wish in your downtown shopping.

Merchants of Grass Valley and Nevada City do noble justice to their business dealing reputation by making careful, inexhaustive studies of the things that appeal to but one person—YOU! These merchants probably know the wants, whims and fancies of the individual far better than the individual himself. Their stocks of smart, modern, selective goods amply testify to the truth of this.

When you go marketing—whether it be for a new type claw-hammer or a latest type oil heater—look well to the offerings of your friend, the home-town merchant. Remember that he will be here serve you today, tomorrow and undoubtedly five years from tomorrow. He'll give you more than a share of his time in the extra little courtesies that neighborliness fosters; he'll see that you are treated right — because he respects your business and your friendship.

Williamson, Mrs. Edith Davey, Miss Mary Davies.

The ceremonies will begin at one o'clock at the Indian Stone on East Broad street and continue on to the two placques on the east and west of Sugar Loaf Mountain to the north of Nevada City.

Past Grand President Joseph R. Knowland, chairman of the Grand Parlor Landmarks committee, will dedicate the Indian Medicine Stone. He will be followed by Hartley Russell, Grand President of the Native Sons, and Mrs. Florence Boyle, the Grand President of the Native Daughters.

Loyis Byington, will be the speaker for the Landmarks Committee on the Emigrant Trail markers. Following him will be Grand President and Grand President Florence D. Boyle.

Hon. Harry Englebright of Hydraulic Parlor of Nevada City, will also speak at the marker in honor of Sheriff David Douglass who was killed in 1896 in combat with highwaymen.

The school chorus under direction of Mrs. C. S. Libbey will render songs at the ceremonies.

Eugene Biscailuz, sheriff of Los Angeles county, president of the California State Peace Officers Association, and a prominent member of the Native Sons, and wife, accompanied by Eldred L. Meyer, grand first vice president N. S. G. W. and wife, of Santa Monica will drive practically all night to be present at the ceremony.

Members of Hydraulic Parlor expect a large attendance at the exercises and it is requested that all those who have machines and can transport people to the sites notify Garfield Robson.

California's state flag, the Bear Flag, will be placed along the route so as to direct machines to the different sites.

The Past Presidents banquet will be held at 7:00 p. m. October 17 at Gene's Cafe.

ART CLASSES PREPARE AD POSTERS FOR GAMES

The art class, under the supervision of Miss Petersen, is progressing very rapidly. Under her instruction all the modern alphabets are being studied, in the Art I class. The pupils have made designs for posters to advertise the basketball and football games. The class has handed in seven border designs made up of parts of circles, squares, scrolls, straight and curved lines. They are now painting them in a related color scheme.

The Art II pupils have made linoleum block prints and printed them on material covered books. They have made title pages for books, some of them are drawings of fish, flowers and airplanes.

This class is now going to make wood blocks. Some of the girls are designing costumes and are making winter suits.

A great deal of other material has been ordered and as soon as it arrives, the classes can progress more rapidly.

UP AND DOWN BROAD STREET

(By AMY LOU McCRANEY)

Under the watchful eye of city marshall Charles Ninnis, traffic and parking conditions of Nevada City have been greatly improved. At all hours of the busiest days persons doing business in Nevada City now find it possible to be accomodated parking space. The improved traffic conditions are evidenced by the fact that there were very few citations and reprimands during the past week.

A cigar store has been opened in the premises of the Nevada City Tavern building. Last week an unsuccessful attempt was made to secure a license to operate gambling games there.

Ellis Lund, was brought into Judge Mobley's court on the charge of driving while intoxicated. Last Saturday night October 10, Lund crashed through the railing of the fill at the corner of Washington and Coyote streets, injuring Mrs. L. B. Gregory. He pleaded not guilty and a trial will be held at 2 p. m. on October 16 in Judge Mobley's court. Meanwhile he awaits in jail in default of $250.

Donald Ursey, 20, who is accused of stealing the purse of Catherine Stephens at the Country Fair Saturday night, entered a plea of not guilty on Wednesday. His bail is set at $250. He is now in jail awaiting the trial which will take place on October 20.

Chief of Police Garfield Robson is in receipt of a letter of inquiry from Norway, transmitted to him from the Salvation Army in New York, as to the whereabouts of Jens Rudolf Gunvaldsen. Information regarding this man should be given to the Chief of Police immediately.

Mr. R. L. P. "Dick" Bigelow, formerly of the forest service, will fill the vacancy arising from Mr. Wright's resignation from the office of city water collector in the Nevada City council. We wish Mr. Bigelow success in his new venture.

"HOME OWNED" GAS DEALERS WILL DINE

The Home Owned Gasoline Retail Association members of Nevada City will meet at Gene's Cafe Friday evening for a dinner meeting. The aim of this organization is cooperation among dealers in various ways. The association was reorganized this fall, Glenn Cleland being nominated president and Bill Williamson, financial secretary.

ORAL ENGLISH CLASS HAS WEEKLY CLASS FORUM

(By ADELE JOERSCHKE)

The Oral English Class of the Nevada City high school take one day vacation each week from giving their usual talks to have a class discussion.

The discussions so far have dealt with school problems and some very interesting points have been brought up. Some of these points brought up include the giving of a dance to which Grass Valley students will be invited, and the setting of a regular time each month for class meetings.

A chairman presides over each discussion. The students who have been chairman this year are: Fred Garrison, Adele Joerschke, and Jane Ziegler. Bill Bennett will be chairman at next Monday's discussion.

After each discussion a committee is elected to present the ideas brought up in class to Mr. Kjorlie for his approval. Mr. Kjorlie is quite interested in the idea and took time last Monday to come into see the discussion himself.

COMMERCAIL DEPT. TO HOLD ASSEMBLY

(By THOS. RICKARD)

Catherine Stephens made the Gregg Certificate awarded for taking new material at the dictation rate of eighty words a minute in shorthand II, and successfully transcribed the material on the typewriter.

The commercial department will have an assembly on Nevember 6, when they will give a program in which approximately fifty people will take part.

The commercial department schedule for this year consists of the following studies and periods: Period 1—Shorthand I. Period 2—Typing II. Period 3—Typing I. Period 4—Shorthand I. Period 5—Bookkeeping I. Student body accounting. Period 6—Typing I.

There are approximately one hundred and thirty five students enrolled in the commercial department this year.

The student body accountants are the same as they were last year. Their duties are to keep the school books balanced. The student body accountants are Catherine Stephens and Fred Garrison.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Murchie of Auburn spent Sunday in Nevada City visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Murchie and Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Buckner.

Mrs. Helen Haines is spending a short visit in Riverside.

HI SCHEDULE FEATURES OROVILLE NIGHT GAME

(By BILL BENNETT)

The Nevada City high school "Yellowjackets" have a remainder of five football games to play this season. Having won the 1935 "B" league championship, the team is planning to repeat its last performance.

The Yellowjackets" have already defeated Placer Union high by the score of 18 to 7.

Roseville forfeited its game, so the only remaining league game to play is with the Grant Union "B" squad on Saturday, October 17.

Next comes the San Juan team from Fair Oaks. Following that is the "Big Game" with the Grass Valley Miners." The Oroville game this year promises to be a real contest. It will be played at night at Oroville. As none of Nevada City boys have ever played night football before, this will be a new experience.

The team will again tackle Grass Valley towards the end of the season.

ENGLEBRIGHT WHIP IN HOUSE HONORS NEV. CITY

(By JACKSON ENGLEBRIGHT)

The people of Nevada City should be proud that a home town boy The Hon. Harry Englebright, republican whip in the House of Representatives, is the first man west of the Rocky Mountains to be elected to this high office.

In the House of Representatives as in any other large organization, it is necessary to have officers; but instead of a President, Vice-President, etc. the House of Representatives has a speaker presiding over the whole house, the party leaders, and the party whips. Of these the whips are the only ones in direct communication with the members. The members consult him or his assistants as to what legislation is coming up for approval in congress for the coming day.

One of the chief duties of the whip is having charge of the consent and private calendars. The consent calendar contains all legislation except major legislation. These calendars are not voted on.

All that is needed to defeat these bills is an objection by a member, although the whip does most of the objecting.

The whip is also a member of all advisory committees and consults at various times with the president, speaker, and party leaders.

In England in the House of Commons the whip is paid ten thousand dollars extra for his duties, but in America the honor is so great no extra pay is added. It is so important that the members of the parties are very careful as to whom they elect to the office, because the whip represents the entire party on many occasions.

Miss Jane Ziegler, who has attended the Nevada City high school for the past three weeks, left for San Francisco where she will resume her studies.

Mrs. J. Dolan is recovering from an operation.

Chester Bigelow of Columbia Hill is in town on business.

NOVEL CLASS PROJECTS ENLIVEN U. S. HISTORY

(By VELLA FLINDT)

At last the United States history classes have their big work books, much to everyone's regret. All the work books mean to them are 300 pages of hard work. Seriously, though, the work books will be a great help to the classes in the preparation of their lessons. At the present the class is studying the War of 1812, and in between times trying to catch up in the work books. Monday Mr. Barron gave the students nine lessons on Traffic Safety. These lessons were put out by the AAA.

Nine of the pupils will give reports on them on Thursday. Friday the class will enjoy a debate on whether or not the Puritans were justified in forcing out of Mascachusetts those who refused to accept their religious teaching.

The members of the third period U. S. history class gave their reports on traffic safety Wednesday. Almost all of the students have signed up for projects on map making, cartooning and the making of a list of the presidents and the dates of their administrations.

The World History class was also given the rules on traffic safety to be reported on Friday. They save just received work beeks and ase considered sissies by the U. S. history students because the work books contain only 100 pages. The class are working on projects and term paper. One of the most interesting papers is on the tracing of man's rise from the caveman to the present day.

Mr. Barron is showing the class the contrast of the Greek boy and the American boy.

(By VELLA FLINDT)

Under the leadership of last years president, Rex Robinson, the class of "38" elected officers for the new year. The following officers were elected:

Melvin Clark, President.
Jane Ziegler, Vice-President.
Gerald Coke, Treasurer.
Vella Flindt, Secretary.

Melvin Clark was president in the freshman year of this class, and perhaps who knows, Rex Robinson, last year's president will be so again in his senior year. Jane Ziegler, vice-president, moved away a few days after her election, at the next meeting another vice president will be elected.

As is the custom, the class will obtain their class rings in their junior year. A committee was selected to pick out several of the best rings to be decided uuon by the class. The committee members are: Gerald Coke, Alice Graham, Bill Molthen, Madge Pianezzi, Lucy Proctor, Don Thomas.

No plans were made for the Junior Prom as it is to be held in the gym, which is not completed yet. It is not known to what extent the gym can be decorated.

Several of the Juniors were appointed places on the "37" Quill staff. The assistant editor, Reggie Kennedy, will be editor of the "38" Quill staff.

Mr. Harvey A. Day from Upland is visiting his sister Mrs. J. Sisson of this city.

HAPPY RETURNS OF BIRTHDAY TO CAPT. NIHELL

Capt. George A. Nihell, owner of the Deer Creek Union mine southeast of Nevada City, celebrated his 78th birthday Wednesday. October 14. Several friends and relatives were present to enjoy a delicious chicken dinner.

He was born in Illinois and came to Nevada City with his parents in 1863, just after a fire had practically destroyed the city. He has made this city his home ever since. Mr. Nihell took up the trade of millwright and was sometimes called to Nevada state to set up mills. He has been superintendent of several mines, the Oden, just back of Sugar Loaf mountain; Brunswick, near Grass Valley; Summit, now Live Yankee, south of Nevada City and spent two years re-opening the Murchie mine, when Hoff and Price took over the property, nine years ago.

Capt. Nihell also has an ore buyers' license and buys gold. He states most of the gold is coming from the Middle Yuba river and Deer Creek. There are about six families at You Bet that sell him gold. He remembers when You Bet was a town of 150 families and a daily stage carried mail and passengers between Nevada City and You Bet. In some instances at You Bet today whole families pan gold, each child, mother and father keeping their gold separate and bringing it to Nevada City to sell.

When asked about the largest pocket of gold he had ever seen, he stated it was in the National mine at Graniteville years ago. It was almost all jewelry rock and $5000 in gold was placed in a little candle box to bring out. Fred Searls, engineer for the Newmont interests, is now reopening the old Republic mine just across the mountain from the National, closed years ago. The National Guard, Company C, Nevada Light Guard, was organized in 1863 and in later years George A. Nihell became a member and worked up to the rank of captain, serving 17 years in that capacity.

He, hale and hearty, taking an active interest in developing his property. The best wishes of the entire community are extended to him for many more happy returns of his birthday.

"HOTCHA FLASH" PLAYED; NO EXCHANGE OF MONEY

(By JOAN GRANT)

Last Wednesday the owner of "Van's Place" applied to the city council for a license to operate a cigar store. This petition was granted. The game "Hotcha Flash" is now being played, not for profit, but as a demonstration of its alluring innocence.

At a recent meeting of the city council, Mayor Ben Hall and a majority of the city council refused to vote on granting a license to "Vans" Place" because Attorney W. E. Wright had stated that "Hotcha Flash" is a gambling game and a violation of state laws.

The ticket drawing for dishes at Jackson's Grocery Store, was made Saturday. The lucky number is 042243. If it is not claimed by Monday it is void.

DEMOCRATS

The future of our party is at stake. President Roosevelt has wrecked the finest platform ever drawn up by the Democratic Party. He has repudiated its pledges and has forgotten its name. He and his advisers boast they are "New Dealers," not Democrats. Roosevelt has abandoned you and your party as lightly as he would like to abandon the Constitution which he swore to revere and uphold. For your party's sake you should

VOTE

to repudiate the wreckers of Democratic principles of government. Wreckers who take their advice from pink-tinged Tugwells, Frankfurters, Dubinskys and Hillmans. Wreckers who advise the President who recently wrote urging a Congressional committee to ignore the Constitution. Wreckers who are taking your money and throwing it recklessly around. Wreckers who, ignoring the platform Roosevelt said he would support 100% the doctrines of Stalin which they have embraced, have long delayed recovery in this country. Yet from March 4, 1933, to June 30, 1936, the fabulous sum of $25,000,000,000 has been squandered while eleven million are still unemployed. Hundreds of the foremost leaders of the Democratic Party have "taken a walk" in protest. They believe their action shows loyalty to the Democratic Party rather than disloyalty, since they will be voting November 3 for and its age-enduring institutions and liberty. The Democratic Party will be a thing of the past if Roosevelt and his "New Dealers" are re-elected. You cannot continue to spend $2 for every $1 you take in without soon facing disaster. The future of the Democratic Party may be preserved and rescued from the wreckage only by repudiating those who have repudiated you. Party loyalty demands you defeat the un-American profligates in Washington by voting for Landon and Knox and candidates for Congress who will support these nominees.
